

WORK FORCE DEVELOPMENT

Workforce Development at Cherry Street is designed to provide access to services, personal plan development, provide wrap around support to students, while meeting the needs of each unique human being. Those graduating from a workforce development course have gained skills they can use in new and exciting careers. Students invested their time to learn the latest skills, learn best practices, master technology and how to provide the highest quality of work. These practical measures in the workforce development at Cherry Street is how together we can start feeding futures for those hungry for a career.

DOING MORE TOGETHER

Cherry Street Mission Ministries is a central city, under one roof, holistic ecosystem designed with integral and strategic partnerships to address the needs of your community. A winning component to the success of others is removing common barriers. Bringing collaborators into the same space is a net positive for those living in poverty and the collaborators.

2019 IMPACT REPORT

SUPPORT FROM THE COMMUNITY

Since homelessness has been a part of the American fabric, the majority of the focus has been on food and a bed. Tongue in cheek, some have referred to it as “three hots and a cot.” While the community has always supported Cherry Street’s provision of food and shelter; today Cherry Street challenges the norm of the institutionalization of humans. Toward that end, Cherry Street has been releasing new material to showcase how Cherry Street is moving beyond the meal and the bed.

Those served at Cherry Street need a meal, a bed, turkey on the holidays and are still hungry. They are Hungry for Change, Hungry for a Career, or Hungry for Success.

To address that hunger, Cherry Street also provides work force development, specialized programming, and access to support services all under one roof, to foster the success of individuals in your community.
